Sachem Central School District

Curriculum and Instruction Office

September 2020

Dear Parents and Guardians:

The school district uses a computer software called HearBuilder to help students learn to follow directions, to master nine phonological awareness skills needed for listening and reading, to strengthen auditory memory, to practice reading left or right, understanding details, making predictions, putting steps of an event in logical order, and targeting 2-6 step sequences.

To begin using this program, we must ask for your permission to allow us to enter your child's name into the class database for the school. We have been assured by the developer of this software that no information about the children is shared with any third parties. Please consult the following webpage for further information: <http://www.hearbuilder.com/privacy-policy>.

Sincerely,

Erin Hynes

Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum & Instruction
